

Development of Prophet Daniel Street

Reviving the heart of Alexandria's heritage

THE PAST

Nabi Daniel Street is considered one of the oldest and most significant urban thoroughfares in Alexandria, connecting the various historical and cultural eras through which the city has passed.

The Roman Era: The street formed an integral part of the grid layout of the ancient Roman city, the Cardo Maximus connecting the Corniche to St. Mark's Cathedral.

The Islamic Era: The street derives its name from the Mosque of Prophet Daniel, located at its center, which is believed to house the remains of Prophet Daniel and Abdullah ibn Ali Zayn al-Abidin.

الكنيسة المرقسية الكبرى

مسجد النبي دانيال

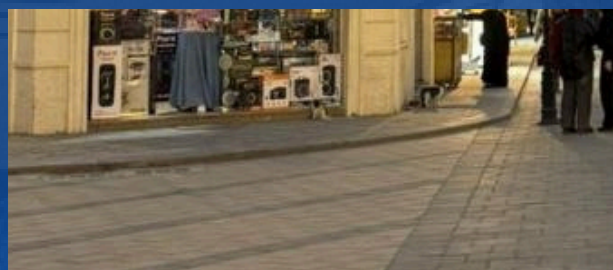

Archaeological Landmarks

THE PRESENT

Project Objective: To rehabilitate Nabi Daniel Street and transform it into a distinguished urban, cultural, and tourist promenade, while preserving its unique architectural heritage character.

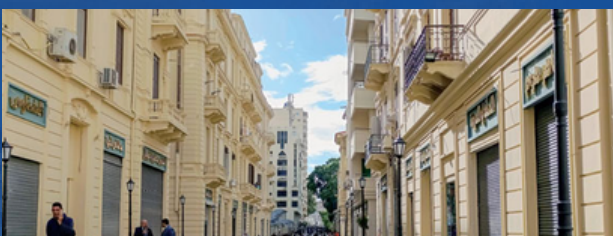

Paving: Premium materials, such as basalt and granite, were used to pave the street and sidewalks, lending a sophisticated and elegant urban appearance.

Lighting: Modern, energy-efficient decorative lighting units (LED) have been installed, complementing the street's heritage character and enhancing its aesthetic appeal at night.

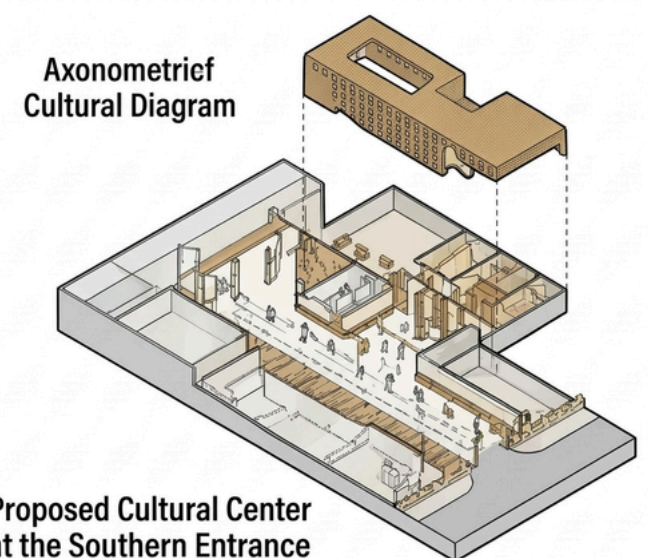

Facades: Shopfronts have been standardized to reflect the street's visual identity, utilizing warm colors and authentic Arabic calligraphy.

THE FUTURE

Future Vision To transform Nabi Daniel Street into a leading global tourism and cultural destination, attracting visitors from all corners of the world.

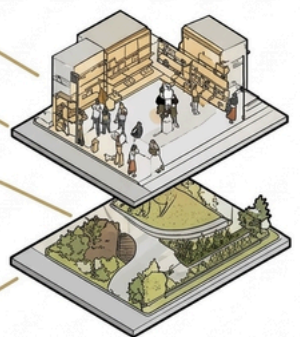

Economic Growth

Cultural Preservation

Eco-Friendly Transportation

Future Visions:

- An Open-Air Book Museum: "Transforming the street into an open-air museum dedicated to books, showcasing the history of the book and the craft of bookmaking, while hosting significant cultural events.
- A Center for Cultural Activities: Establishing a cultural hub featuring a theater, an art gallery, and creative workspaces, aimed at fostering cultural vibrancy within the city.